Saturday, Dec. 9, 2017 - Load in & Show

Hello,

We hope everyone has their birds together, raise some good ones. For those of you that attended our show last year, it was mentioned that last year (2016) would be our last year. But since this year would be our 15th year, we decided we would give it one more shot. So, YES, we will be having a show in December 2017. But we need you to help you. This is your show. We need you to get involved, show some birds and bring a friend to two. This is why we do it.

I will be putting our show on the NPA calendar. Purebred Magazine this month will have our ad trying to help the show. Help spread the word!
